1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1 through 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 through 5 fail to clearly set forth the structural relationship of the holding member with the various other elements comprising the paper feed apparatus, therefore; the structural arrangement encompassed by the claims is not clearly understood. Claims 1 through 5 merely set forth the operative relationship between the various elements of the paper feed apparatus and the holding member.

In claim 5 line 2, the recitation "sheet-like" is indefinite because does not define a specific structure. Accordingly, it is unclear what constitutes a "sheet-like shape". It would be clearer to recite a holding member in the form of a sheet of material.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sasaki et al. Sasaki et al teaches a paper feed apparatus comprising a paper feed roller 21 for feeding sheets contained in a cassette and a holding member 11h which comes into contact with the paper to generate a friction force weaker than that between the paper feed roller and the paper. The material of the holding member is inherently of lower friction than the paper feed roller in order to allow the sheet to be pulled from the cassette by the roller.

5. Claims 2 through 5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hiratani, Yoshikawa et al, Kawakami and Hirano et al are cited to show various holding members.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David H Bollinger whose telephone number is 703-308-1113. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.
